May all attain enlightenment together.

Essence of the Perfection of Wisdom | The Heart Sutra

Bhagavāti Prajñāpāramitā Hṛdaya (Sanskrit) | Sherab Nyingpo (Tibetan)

If you wish to practice this sutra, visualize the Tatagata in the sky before you. He holds the mudra that subdues mara and is surrounded by the members of the Hinayana and Mahayana sanghas, including Avalokiteshvara and Shariputra, who are engaged in discussion. As you contemplate the nature of emptiness, recite this profound sutra as much as possible, up to seven times, and repeat the vidya mantra a suitable number of times as well.

Thus, have I heard:

At one time, the Bhagavan dwelt in Rajagriha at Vulture Peak Mountain, together with a great sangha of fully ordained monks and a great sangha of bodhisattvas. As the Bhagavan settled into an absorption on the categories of phenomena called “illumination of the profound,” noble Avalokiteshvara, the bodhisattva mahasattva, beheld the practice of the profound perfection of wisdom and saw the five aggregates to be empty of nature.

Then, through the power of the Buddha, venerable Shariputra addressed noble Avalokiteshvara, the bodhisattva mahasattva: “How should a son or daughter of noble family who wishes to practice the profound perfection of wisdom train?”

In response, noble Avalokiteshvara, the bodhisattva mahasattva, said to venerable Shariputra, “O Shariputra, a son or daughter of noble family who wishes to practice the profound perfection of wisdom should see clearly in this way: correctly observing that the five aggregates are empty of nature.

“Form is emptiness; emptiness also is form. Form is not other than emptiness, emptiness is not other than form. Just so, sensation, perception, formation, and consciousness are emptiness.

“O Shariputra, all dharmas (phenomena; chö) are emptiness in just this way. There are no characteristics. There is no birth and no cessation. There is neither impurity nor absence of impurity. There is no increase and no decline.

“O Shariputra, since this is the case, in emptiness there is no form, no sensation, no perception, no formation, and no consciousness; no eyes, no ears, no nose, no tongue, no body, and no mind; no forms, no sounds, no smells, no tastes, no touch, and no phenomena; no eye element to no mind element, up to no mind consciousness element; no ignorance and no end of ignorance, up to no old age and death and no end of old age and death. In the same way, there is no suffering, no source of suffering, no cessation of suffering, and no path; no wisdom, no attainment and no non-attainment.

“Therefore, Shariputra, since bodhisattvas have nothing to attain, they rely upon and dwell in the perfection of wisdom. Since their minds’ are unobscured, they have no fear. Transcending all forms of misconception, they reach nirvana. All the buddhas throughout the three times as well rely upon the perfection of wisdom, and in so doing become perfect buddhas, actualizing unsurpassed, true, complete enlightenment.

“Therefore, the mantra of the perfection of wisdom, the mantra of great insight, the unsurpassed mantra, the mantra equal to that which has no equal, the mantra that completely pacifies all suffering should be known as truth, for it is not false.”

The perfection of wisdom mantra is spoken thus:

tadyatha om gaté gaté paragaté parasamgaté bodhi svaha

“Shariputra, a bodhisattva mahasattva should practice the profound perfection of wisdom in this way.”

The Bhagavan then arose from his absorption and said to noble Avalokiteshvara, the bodhisattva mahasattva: “Good, good, O son of noble family! Thus it is, son of noble family, thus it is! The profound perfection of wisdom should be practiced just as you have taught. In this, all the tatagatas rejoice!”

When the Bhagavan said this, venerable Shariputra and noble Avalokiteshvara, the bodhisattva mahasattva, along with the entire retinue and the world with its gods, humans, demi-gods, and gandharvas rejoiced and praised the words of the Bhagavan.

This concludes the noble Essence of the Perfection of Wisdom.

Recite the following lines to dispel negative forces:

I prostrate to the Buddha.
I prostrate to the Dharma.
I prostrate to the Sangha.
I prostrate to the Great Mother, the Perfection of Wisdom.

In times past, the king of gods, Indra, pondered the profound nature of the perfection of wisdom and chanted its liturgy. In this way, he dispelled all negative, harmful forces and other factors that create discord.

[Clap at each !]

Just so, by pondering the profound nature of the Great Mother, the Perfection of Wisdom, and chanting this liturgy, may all negative, harmful forces and other factors that create discord be dispelled! May they disappear! May they be pacified! May they be thoroughly pacified!

Following that, recite from Nāgārjuna’s Root of Prajñā¹:

That which arises interdependently
Does not cease and does not arise.
It is not nothing and not eternal.
It does not come and does not go.
It is not different and not the same.
To the one who teaches peace,
The pacification of all projections,
To the most sublime of all who speak:
To the perfect Buddha, I pay homage!

Conclude by dedicating the merit, making aspirations, and reciting auspicious prayers.

Mantra in Tibetan: བཞེག་ཞེལ་ར་བཞེག་ལ་མེད་པའི་བོད་མེད་ལྷོ་ལྷོ།

Mantra in Sanskrit: tadyathā om gate gate pāragate pārasamgate bodhi svāhā

Mantra in English: Gone, gone, gone beyond, gone completely beyond, enlightenment!

¹ üma tsa wa sherab, prajñānāmamūlamadhymakakārikā; Nāgārjuna: “The one who has revealed that the state of peace—the origin of dependent arising—is unceasing, unborn, not negated, not eternal, not coming, not going, not different, and not similar and that all elaborations are thoroughly pacified is the fully perfected Buddha. I prostrate to every word of his sacred speech.”
