

The Seven Branches

OM AH HUNG

To the embodiment of all refuges, Teacher inseparable from Oḍḍiyāna,

I submit obeisance with one-pointed respect in body, speech, and mind.

My body and possessions I offer as clouds of offerings, holding nothing back.

I acknowledge and part from my negative actions, downfalls, and deteriorations and breaches of the commitments.

I rejoice in all virtue, tainted and untainted.

I exhort you to turn the wheel of the teachings of the essential meaning.

I beseech you to remain forever without passing into nirvana.

This positive action and all sources of good I dedicate that all beings may attain unsurpassable enlightenment.
